The Joyce archive

The following 23 lots come from the Joyce family archive, presenting a range of insights into the contemporary workings of the Post Office at the time.

Herbert Joyce C.B., served as Third Secretary of the Post Office and authored The History of the Post Office from Its Establishment Down to 1836, published in 1893, providing a comprehensive overview of the evolution of services, the establishment of post offices, development of routes and introduction of new technologies such as the telegraph. Joyce drew on a range of primary sources, including official records, correspondence, and contemporary accounts and his book has long been considered the standard work on the subject.

- 237 1635 The London Gazette from Monday June 18 to Thursday June 21. There are two postal references, the first refers to the number of posts per week from London to Ireland, the second refers to a stage coach which “Goes from the Black Bull in Holborn” as well as a stage coach “From the Mitre in Oxford to Trop Wells”. £100-£120
- 238 John Palmer’s own extract of the relevant section regarding the Post Office, showing the postage rates, and “A TABLE of the stages and Post-Towns in each County of England”, from his personal copy of Britannia; or a Geographical Description of the Kingdoms of England, Scotland and Ireland by Richard Blome (1673), annotated at top in his own hand. John Palmer (1742 - 1818) of Bath was both a theatre owner and instigator of the system of mail coaches that inspired the era of great British post office reforms founded on an efficient delivery service. Palmer served as Mayor of Bath on two occasions as well as Comptroller General of the Post Office. Photo. £1,500-£2,000
- 239 1696 The London Gazette from Monday December 21 to Thursday 24. The contents refer to two people appointed by the Post Master General of England “to receive all such letters and paquets from Masters of ships and vessels, Mariners and passengers”. £100-£120
